7.1.3. Beyond the campus environmental promotion activities:

Seed bombing: this is the important practice of introducing vegetation to barren lands by throwing or dropping the seed balls. These Seed balls are prepared using clay, cow dung by placing the seed in the center of the ball and drop or thrown them in the regions where the vegetation has to be developed. This practice is implemented on the hill region to enhance the ecosystem by the SML Green Corps.

SML Green Corps prepared the Seed balls for Seed bombing.
